EMBEZZLEMENT TRIALS.

Miles Finlen, ex-Roadmaster of Virginia, thrice indicted by the Storey Grand Jury for embezzlement, was tried upon one of them the other day, and acquitted, whereupon the Virginia Chronicle remarks:

The general impression is that there will be no more trials, but that the other indictments will be dismissed. The result of the two cases already tried shows conclusively that the testimony is insufficient to secure a conviction, and further trials can only have the result of piling up expense for the taxpayers to settle.

It is wonderful that after all the Chronicle published about the matter, secure a conviction," and that "further trials can only have the result of piling up expense for the taxpayers to settle." From what the Chronicle said we thought Mr. Finlen would certainly have been convicted, and as for "expense" why should the Chronicle indirectly object to further trials on that ground because the taxpayers' money would only be thrown away. Is the case not one of embezzlement, and does it not come under the same heading as the Savings Bank cases? The Chronicle is seemingly very auxious that Washoe county should spend a million or two in the Savings Bank cases, but is satisfied only result in expense for the taxpayers ity of a conviction.

There are several soldiers in Nevada who will be benefitted by the new pension law, which provides an increase for disability in leg and arm from $18 to $24 in one class, and from $24 to $30 in another. Two million a year will be required to pay this increase, a mere matter of mooushine to a Government that can reduce its taxation and revenues $50,000,000 a year without winktheir medules with an injunction of secretive pensions—the disabled ones more than the others, to be sure, but when the Government finds itself in possession of such vast surplus revenues that it is enabled to make a reduction as that referred to, it would do a neat thing, an honorable, proper, and popular thing, an honorable, proper, and popular thing, to remember the boys who made the surplus possible, thus putting money in circulation by which the country would be improved, poor men made prosperous, poverty driven to the right about, and in place of hard times.

In the truth is all the soldiers should receive pensions of sectors. The others were put away until the campaign should be over. Cambelled the campa

RAPS FROM BIEBER.

The Bieber Tribune, referring to an article on "spiritual manifestations," recently appearing in the Jouenal, copied from the Boston Transcript, answers as follows :

If the same principle, which brought down the lighting from the clouds to play upon the pointed steel, now operates in thought along the quivering wiresif electricity is discovered to be the universal medium through which mind acts upon matter, why should we now be startled at the manifestations around us, which invariably show, in one way or another, the operation of an electrical agent! Natural laws will unveil the mystery, and the world will wonder that it wondered. Either there is a combination of the elements of Nature which has never existed before, making a new point in the progression and refinement of matter, or the great secret is about to be discovered by which communication can be had between human organizations and superior intelligences. The day is passed for hooting at these phenomena as a humbur. Scientific phenomena as a humbug. Scientific men do not now question the fact that that "the testimony is insufficient to they exist, but devote themselves to inquiring what they are, and what causes them; and those who would now investigate the arena of Nature must throw aside their grosser ideas, and prepare to reason upon more refined principles than those which formed the basis of philosophy for their ancestors. Not that that philosophy had a false foundation, but it had not sufficiently advanced to embrace the present discoveries. REPORTS OF GOVERNMENT CHEMISTS As to Purity and Wholesomeness of the Royal Baking Powder.

"I have tested a package of Royal Baking Powder, which I purchased in the open market, and find it composed of pure and wholesome ingredients. It is a cream of tartar powder of a high degree of merit, and does not contain either alum or phosphates, or other injurious substances.

"It it a scientific fact that the Royal Baking Powder is absolutely pure."

"H. A. MOTT, Ph.D."

"I have examined a package of Royal Baking Powder, purchased by myself in the market. I find it entirely free from alum, term alba, or any other injurious sub-stance. Henry Morron, Ph.D., President of Stevens Institute of Technology." "I have analyzed a package of Royal Baking Powder. The materials of which s composed are pure and wholesome. S. Dana Haves, State Assayer, Mass." it is composed are pure and wholesome.

The Royal Baking Powder received the highest award over all competitors at the Vienna World's Exposition, 1873; at the Centennial, Philadelphia, 1876; at the American Institute, and at State Fairs throughout the country.

No other article of human food has ever received such high, emphatic, and universal endorsement from eminent chemists, physicians, scientists, and Boards of Health all over the world.

NOTE.—The above DIAGRAM illustrates the comparative worth of various Baking Powders, as shown by Chemical Analysis and experiments made by Prof. Schedler. A one pound can of each powder was taken, the total leavening power or volume in each can calculated, the result being as indicated. This practical test for worth by Prof. Schedler only proves what every observant consumer of the Royal Baking Powder knows by practical experience, that, while it costs a few cents per pound more than ordinary kinds, it is far more economical, and, besides, affords the advantage of better work. A single trial of the Royal Baking Powder will convince any fair minded person of these facts.

* While the diagram shows some of the alum powders to be of a higher degree of strength than other powders ranked below them, it is not to be taken as indicating that they have any value. All alum powders, no matter how high their strength, are to be avoided as dangerous.
